

Some STM / AFM Pictures

I've given up competing with the internet. Search there; you get something like this:

The collage contains several panels of STM and AFM images. On the left, there are four panels (a, b, c, d) showing periodic surface patterns in yellow and green. In the center, there are two panels labeled 'AFM' and 'STM' showing grayscale images of surface features, with a 3D schematic below them showing atoms labeled 'Metal', 'Si', and 'O'. To the right, there are several more panels showing different surface structures, including one with a grid of atoms and another with a cluster of atoms. A right-pointing arrow is visible on the far right of the collage.
